■ what we aim for

We wish for you to experience the deliciousness of organic products carefully grown and manufactured by our producers. We hope our customers feel the joy of living organic. That is why, with our vision - "casual prices for daily use", we emphasize dialogues with customers and aim to be a familiar organic store that everyone can enjoy shopping in on a daily basis. In Japan the word “organic” could be recognized as only for those who are particularly careful about what they eat. People think that organic foods and products seem to be good for their health but difficult to eat or use on a regular basis. We do our best to break free from these misconceptions about organics in Japan.
